money movement about $8,000,000, and a very large part of this sum ought to appear tomorrow in the item of surplus treaserves.

Notwithstanding the advance in the stock market with the course of the week there has been only a very moderate increase in the business of commission the business tensive changes in either direction. The day's returns of railway traffic were good showings. There was little other news bearing on particular stocks apart from showings. There was little other news bearing on particular stocks apart from the several dividends announced.

London furnished small and irregular price changes for American stocks. The market for securities at that point was generally depressed by reason of the exceedingly discouraging news from South Africa, the latest serious British-averse being reported just five days after the termination of the war from the stand-point of the British military authorities. Consols were naturally unfavorably affected by this intelligence, and while American stocks railied in London with the course of the business session, for moment before the end of the present year. The stronger arguments seem to be with the latter people, however.

termination of the war from the standpoint of the British military authorities.
Consols were naturally unfavorably affected by this intelligence, and while American stocks rallied in London with the course of the business session, foreign houses sold quite heavily here, disposing on balance of upward of 40,000 shares of stock.

Notwithstanding this selling the railway list held very firm during the forenoon, but the subsequent movements were quite irregular. New York Central enjoyed a particularly rapid advance, which was not fully retained, but the socalled junior Vanderbilt issues were not as buoyant as earlier in the week. Among the lower priced issues, firm features were Southern Railway, Erie, Denver, and Rio Grande, and the Chicago Terminal shares.
No special gossip, however, attended the dealings in any of the stocks cited. On moderate transactions the local traction issues were firm

The most active feature of the market break. The unexpected sometimes happens in the stock market as well as elsewhere. The business situation, the financial conditions, rallway earnings, the end of the steel strike, the utterances of President Roosevelt regarding his future policy, are all most important reasons why the prices of securities should advance. The fact that the large interests are at present the holders of vast blocks of stocks that they do not wish to hold is another. At present the tendency of prices is upward. During the past week the believers in the market have had the best of the argument. This of itself is much. A week ago there was a bear argument of great possible importance. That the course of prices has been upward almost hourly during every market day since the death of President McKinley certainly means that some very weighty people are willing to buy stocks. These people may be buying for manipulative purposes, but it is manipulation that makes every market.

st active feature of the market The most active feature of the market was Amalgamated Copper, in which instance the fluctuations were exceedingly wide. The stock reflected severe pressure at the opening, while it enjoyed a rise later of 4 points. Strength prevailed in the specialties, particularly for Consolidated Gas and General Electric.

The movements in the industrial quarter were in exceedingly light volume and the fluctuations there were correspondingly limited. A very sudden decline in American Ice made that stock temporarily conspicuous.

In addition to the noted heavy selling for foreign account, profit-taking sales by local speculators were in large volume, but they seemed to be induced by no other consideration than the extent of the advance the general market has enjoyed since Monday last. banks have gained heavily from the Sub-Treasury and although they have lost somewhat in other directions it is certain that a good increase in casi; will be shown. The loan item is in doubt, but it is not believed that in such a market as the present there has been any very im-portant increase in loans. An increase in the surplus reserve is therefore prob-able. There is talk of the probability that there will be imports of gold next week.

manipulation. It may be that the insiders are reducing the dividend and putting down the price of the stock in order to buy it in, but on the other hand it is quite as probable, if not more so, that the dividend was cut because the company does believe it should pay it, and that the stock was sold down because the insiders knew the dividend would be cut and wished to get out. The incident should have little effect on the general market. Plans for the practical consolidation of the direction of the entire Vanderbilt sys-+2 the direction of the entire Vanderbilt system of railways are in course of preparation. So much is known beyond any reasonable doubt. The exact nature of the plans is pernaps not known as yet to any except the people immediately interested. There seems to be good reason for believing that a parent 'holding' company will be formed to take charge of the securities of the Vanderbilt lines. Some doubt is expressed as to whether only the 'Junior' Vanderbilts will be included or the New York Central as well. It is probable that the new company will be financial in its nature entirely, and have nothing to do with the operation of the different lines. The Vanderbilt stocks were strong yesterday morning, and although they went off somewhat before the close their record for the day was most satisfactory.

THE CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET. Wheat Holds Its Own, With Corn

Very Irregular. CHICAGO, Sept. 21.-Outside of a slight easiness in sympathy with corn, early wheat held its own today. The feature was the covering of short lines by local professionals. The outside interest in the market was very light. Liverpool was unchanged to 1-8d lower; Paris le per bushel lower. There were no cash sales reported here; 18 loads at the seaboard. Corn was very irregular, opening higher on the firm Liverpool cables and con-tinued lower temperatures West. The professionals, who caused a moderate re-action. At the low prices there was fair buying for the account of local bulls and provisions interests, and a fair rally fol-lowed. Near the close there was another weak spell on commission houses and pit traders selling, the last prices being 4c under Wednesday's close.

The meeting was not held until late in the afternoon, and nothing certain was known as to the dividend to be declared on the stock during the session. There was much gassip, however, and the stock, and to a certain extent the entire list, fluctuated in accordance with the changes of sentiment regarding the matter. The stock was extremely weak earlier in the week, but yesterday, when the crucial day came, it was stronger and closed with a net gain. The regular dividend was declared, 1½ per cent, and the extra dividend that has been paid recently was cut out. The inference generally drawn from this fact is that the recent break in the price of the stock has fully discounted the cut in the dividend, in the estimation of the important people.
